

The diagram illustrates a mobile application layout on a grid. It features a top header section, a main content area, and a bottom navigation bar. The main content area is divided into three sections: a left sidebar, a central card, and a right sidebar. The central card contains a square image placeholder and a rectangular button. The bottom navigation bar is a solid gray bar.